

Membership Matters

Sharing intelligence and good practice

Issue 2 May 2018

Editor's note

We want to create a learning community for all members, regardless of what industry they work in.

Different sectors frequently face similar safety challenges such as fatigue, mental wellbeing and how to improve safety culture.

Often, the answers transcend sectors: an initiative to tackle fatigue from the bus sector could also work for a train operator. Look beyond conventional sector boundaries for solutions - could an initiative or idea be replicated in your business? There's often scope for knowledge transfer.

In this edition we also look back at 2017/18. What trends did we see last year? Why did reporters use CIRAS?

Finally, our staff survey is still open - if you haven't invited your staff to complete it, there's still time.

Enjoy!

Kerry Dolan
Membership Manager

Share your feedback and tell us about your good safety practice at editor@ciras.org.uk

Spotlight on Skanska

Tricia O'Neill, Head of Occupational Health and Wellbeing, Skanska

CIRAS spoke to Skanska's Tricia O'Neill about their approach to health and wellbeing. Tricia shared her advice on how to implement a successful programme.

Read more...

Safety reporting: the key to success in safety culture

In our safety culture survey last year, we asked respondents from across management and frontline staff to tell us how they felt about safety reporting in their company.

How easy was it to report? How seriously were they taken?

Read more...

Back on track with mental health

Michelle Barron, HSE Manager, KeolisAmey Docklands

KeolisAmey Docklands (KAD), operator of the Docklands Light Railway, is working in partnership with the East London NHS Foundation Trust.

Read more...

Stop. Make a Change.

Stop.
Make a Change.

CIRAS member Bechtel took an active part in the national 'Stop. Make a Change.' campaign in April, to improve mental health and plant safety in the workplace.

Read more...

CIRAS news

Here you will find latest news and important information for our CIRAS reps about developments at CIRAS. Read more...

Health and wellbeing – what our members are doing

Staffie cross Bruno takes a break at Ecology Consultancy

When we held our learning event series 'Putting the health back into health and safety' in November we asked our members to lead the discussion by sharing their experiences. Turns out there's a lot going on!

Want to know how your pet dog, a positive mental health champion, or a safety bus can improve your health and wellbeing?

Read more...

End of year reporting statistics 2017/18

We're keen to gain insight from our reports so that we can share this with our members. As we embark on a new financial year, we look back at what the CIRAS reports from 2017/18 are telling us about health and safety in the UK transport sector. Read more...